Tutor Meeting/Slack Questions

- ▶ Some of you gave me questions to ask at the tutor meeting.
- ▶ We will go over that in class now.

Final Report: Questions

Any info about the final report? Writing a thesis in 1-2 weeks for 75% of the mark seems to be a lot of work if it is what our final report is. This goes back to the marking scheme but how would the 75% be allocated? Mostly based on the quality of that report? Would the quality of the deliverable itself have any significant impact on these 75%? If not, would that mean that 75% of the capstone grade is mostly determined in that 1-2 weeks of work on the final report?

Final Report: Answers

- ▶ Due in week 13, BUT there will probably be a two week extension (no guarantees).

Final Report: Answers

- ▶ Due in week 13, BUT there will probably be a two week extension (no guarantees).
- ▶ The quality of the report is a product of the quality of the deliverable.

Final Report: Answers

- ▶ Due in week 13, BUT there will probably be a two week extension (no guarantees).
- ▶ The quality of the report is a product of the quality of the deliverable.
- ▶ I will cross-reference the report with the deliverable in marking.

- ▶ Your final report will contain a lot of repeated material.

- ▶ Your final report will contain a lot of repeated material.
- ▶ This will be drawn from previous group and individual reports.

- ▶ Your final report will contain a lot of repeated material.
- ▶ This will be drawn from previous group and individual reports.
- ▶ This is why it carries such a high mark.

- ▶ Your final report will contain a lot of repeated material.
- ▶ This will be drawn from previous group and individual reports.
- ▶ This is why it carries such a high mark.
- ▶ No, this does not mean you get to copy-paste previous content, that's not allowed ever.

Final Report: Marking

- ▶ Individual Component, 72/100 marks
  - ▶ Week 9 Report, 15 points, 10 marks
  - ▶ Week 10 Report, 15 points, 9 marks
  - ▶ Week 11 Report, 15 points, 11 marks
  - ▶ Week 12 Report, 15 points, 12 marks
  - ▶ Week 13 Report, 40 points, 30 marks

Final Report: Marking

- ▶ Individual Component, 72/100 marks
  - ▶ Week 9 Report, 15 points, 10 marks
  - ▶ Week 10 Report, 15 points, 9 marks
  - ▶ Week 11 Report, 15 points, 11 marks
  - ▶ Week 12 Report, 15 points, 12 marks
  - ▶ Week 13 Report, 40 points, 30 marks
- ▶ Group Component, 65/100 marks
  - ▶ Week 13 Report, 100 points, 65 marks

Final Report: Marking

- ▶ Individual Component, 72/100 marks
  - ▶ Week 9 Report, 15 points, 10 marks
  - ▶ Week 10 Report, 15 points, 9 marks
  - ▶ Week 11 Report, 15 points, 11 marks
  - ▶ Week 12 Report, 15 points, 12 marks
  - ▶ Week 13 Report, 40 points, 30 marks
- ▶ Group Component, 65/100 marks
  - ▶ Week 13 Report, 100 points, 65 marks
- ▶ Final Report mark is 75% of total marks.
- ▶ Final report total marks calculated as Individual  $\times$  Group  $\times$  75.
- ▶ Therefore,  $\frac{72}{100} \times \frac{65}{100} \times 75 = 35.1$  total marks.
- ▶ As is 75%, this gives 35.1 of 53.1 total marks for the final report.

Presentation: Questions

For the presentation: When will the marking scheme be available?
Does everyone have to participate (speak) during the presentation?
Should that presentation be about the final product
(demonstration of the website) or be about the process to create it (framing the problem, methodology, issues and challenges along the way, deviations to timeline, etc.) Does the presentation have to be a slide presentation? Or can it be slide + demonstration? Or even just a demonstration without any slide?

Presentation: Answers

- ▶ Slide submission is in week 13.

Presentation: Answers

- ▶ Slide submission is in week 13.
- ▶ Actual presentation is in STUVAC, the week after week 13.

Presentation: Answers

- ▶ This includes all students being ready to answer questions.
- ▶ Will be in the SIT lecture theatre, on the ground floor.
- ▶ Should be about BOTH the development process and the final product itself.
- ▶ Would be better to have BOTH slides and a demonstration, but slides are required for the Canvas submission.

Presentation: Marking

- ▶ Presentation is 10% of total marks.
- ▶ No individual component.
- ▶ Worth 100 pts, 90/100 marks.
- ▶ Presentation total marks is thus  $90/100 * 10 = 9$ .
- ▶ So presentation is worth 9 of 53.1 total marks.

Show Me Your Code!

- ▶ Final report and presentation is coming up soon.
- ▶ You need to start wrapping things up.
- ▶ I want to see your code to consider it in marking.

Show Me Your Code! (cont.)

- ▶ Please make a pull request with the repo you cloned from in the first tutorial.
- ▶ All of your group's code should be within the one repository.
- ▶ This also lets me check your commit messages, so don't squash commits beforehand.
- ▶ Do another PR each week on Wednesday, so I can see any updates.

Today

- ▶ You make pull requests with my repos.
